NEW ESTABLISHMENT,
For the Exclusive Sale of Choice
PERFUMERY FANCY SOAPS, AND TOILET ARTICLES,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

THE subscriber, who exhibited at the late Fair of the American institute, the much admired display of choice Perfumery and Toilet Soaps, and who was there awarded, by the honorable judges, a Golden Medal, has opened an establishment is this city at No. 159 Broadway, where he offers a speciality of Perfumery not to be surpassed either in Europe or America. He would remark that his Perfumery has the great advantage over the foreign of being freshly prepared, and that the unequalled opportunities he estoyed of learning his art in the Laboratory of Laugier Pere et Fils, of which he was for many years the director, guarantees his possession of a skill equal to that of any European Perfumer.

A complete assortment of choice stricts of the most celemany years the director, guarantees his possession of a skill equal to that of any European Ferfumer.

A complete assortment of choice stricles of the most celebrated foreign houses, will at all times be kept on hand, thus enabling his customers to compare and to choose, and he has also imported from Faris a beautiful assortment of FANCY ARTICLES, suitable for the approaching holidays.

The subscriber does not advertise Soap which will change deformity into beauty, and old age into youth, or Fornatums which will possess the transcendent virtue of creating new organs for the growth of the hair. These miracles he leaves for others; but he does pretend to offer TOLLET SOAPS, as occuntifically compounded that no unneutralized alkali remains to first the most delicate skin. and he offers a most elegant preparation, so highly recommended by an accomplished authoreus of America, his AMANDINE, which will preventor care the most inveterate chapping of the skin.

He offers his unrivalled SHAVING CREAM, an artigle which, if once tried, will always be present in every gentlemans direasing case.

which, if once tried, wil always be present in every gentlemans a dressing case

He offers his COSMETIC CREAM, so invaluable an application to delicate faces after shaving, a much more elegant preparation than the Cold Gream.

He offers for the head, Oll.S. ESENCES, POMATUMS and WASHES, possessed of various properties, some designed to beautify and cleanse the healthy harraome to cure disordered action of the Scalp; some of soothing emoluient properties for the irritable head, others atimulating and tonic to the debilitated Scalp, impaired in its functions by sickness and other causes. These remedies, compounded with well-known other causes. These remedies, compounded with well-known felling when its loss does not arise from a destruction of the organs of the hair, and are not to be confounded with the thousand nostrums so shamelessly warranted to cure in all cases.—His BEAR, Oll., he assures the public, is perfectly genuine when represented as such, and is prepared, by an application of heat, so careful as not to endanger the peculiar organization, in virtue of which it differs from other substances of a similar character.

rittue of which it differs from other substances of a similar character.

For the quality of his goods, he can refer to Mesars. Aspinwall, Milhau, Chilton, and many others of the most respectable chemists of this city, who for the last several years have vended articles of his manufacture.

Finally, everything at his store will be as represented, and it any article does not give full satisfaction, it will not only willingly, but also thankfully be taken back. The subscriber is autrous to acquire for his establishment a character for veracity and good faith, when, from the nature of the articles, there is so much room for misrepressuration, and he enjoins it upon all in his employ to maintain the same adherence to truth and good faith. A call is most respectfully solicited.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE BY THE MAILS.

Very Important from Washingto By private and confidential advices from Washing ton, received last night, we are informed that it is very probable the Hon. John C. Calhoun will speedily resume the office of Secretary of State.
We learn that two distinguished members of the House, acting as a delegation from the friends of Mr. Calhoun, were in conference with the President on Thursday for the purpose of making the neces-sary preliminary arrangements. We shall doubtless learn the result of that conference to-day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29, 1846. In my letter to you of the 4th inst., I related several circumstances connected with the political movements of Mr. Calhoun, of which I was partly. if not wholly cognizant, viz:—the delivering for him of a note by Mr. Pakenham's secretary, Mr. Bidwell; his going in the direction of Mr. Pakenham's about 4 o'clock, P. M., on the Saturday following, and the intimation to me, by a friend, of his fifteen minutes afterwards, that he was to dine with the British Minister on that evening. All these induced me to infer at once, as it would very naturally any one else, that the note was an invitation to dine and the information given me by his friend, that he was to do so on the day named, a confirmation of it.

and the information given me by his friend, that he was to do so on the day named, a confirmation of it. This circumstance, taken in connection with his opposition to Mr. Hannegan's resolutions but a few hours before the delivery of the note, and the simultaneous advices sent by Mr. P. to his government, that the notice to quit would not pass the Senate, appeared to me to be of a most extraordinary character, and forced me at once to the conclusion that an intimacy of rather a suspicious nature, probably existed between Mr. C. and Mr. P. Rumors of the same kind were rife here before that time, some of which found their way into the Journal of Commerce, and which aided in fixing upon my mind the impressions detailed in my letter. So far, therefore, the incidents upon which were based the suspicion of collusion between Mr. C. and Mr. P., were true, as I have said above, but the inferences drawn from them, I now believe to have been wrong, and that Mr. C., has had no other connection or communication with Mr. P., than the mere accidental meeting with him at the table of a third party.

Since I gave publicity to those suspicions, arising from the facts of which I had a personal knowledge, I have been careful in making every enquiry from correct sources, as to whether he had dined with Mr. P. or not, with the ulterior view of either fastening the charge upon him, if true, or of correcting, at once, the erroneous conclusions to which I then had arrived, if not. From those enquiries, I have no hesitation now, in saying, that my helief is that Mr. C. has had no connexion with Mr. P. on the Oregon question, and that he did not dine with him on the day stated by his friend. It is due to Mr. C. to say this, as much as it is to truth and justice; and, although neither Mr. C. nor any of his friends, have desired me to do so, yet, I consider it the part of a man of honor to correct errors regarding public men, of whatever party, whether they be made by him knowingly or innocently. I will here remark, in conclusion, that I ha mes in the confidence of the Fresident. But, wowevernes.

The chance for the confirmation of Collector Mor-

The chance for the confirmation of Collector Morton of Boston, is improved considerably. Letters have been sent to the democratic Senators in great abundance, from very prominent democrats, in and out of Massachusetts, representing that Morton's rejection would be destructive of their party, particularly in New Hampshire, the effect being to increase the vote of Hale, the abolition candidate for Congress. This may produce its intended effect on some of the democrats who might otherwise have voted against him.

Some of your correspondents have fallen into an error, in stating that Senator Niles and Cameron had exchanged angry words in secret session last week, on the Woodward case. As whatever passes there is not revealed out of doors, it may be presumed that such a report was nothing more nor less than idle gossip. Independently of this, however, I assert spon proper authority that nothing whatever of the kind had occurred.

The friends of Mr. Buchanan still say that he will go upon the bench of the Supreme Court. He is now virtually out of the Department of State, having removed all his principal papers to his residence. He may remain there, however, until his successor be appointed, which requires some time to consider of, as perhaps the re-organization of the whole Cabinet may depend upon the person appointed to that Department. Mr. Calhoun was with the President twice yesterday for more than an hour each time—once in the morning, and then at night. Mr. C.'s friends are urging the business forward as fast as possible. They may yet succeed in effecting it.

There appears to be some serious mystery about the French and Spanish fleets which are reported to be in the neighborhood of Cuba. The present condition of things in St. Domingo may be the primary as well as the proximate cause of this novel union of the French and Spanish fleets which are reported to be in the neighborhood of Cuba. The present condition of things in St. Domingo may be the primary a as well as the proximate cause of this novel union of the French and Spanish navies. Old Spain has never surrendered her rights to the Spanish part of that island, nor recognized its independence from the mother country, whether under white er black doministion, and it would not be wonderful if the Spanish government were now about to recover their lost sovereignty in St. Domingo. France, too, has long had an itching hand for the western portion of it, now in possession of the blacks; but, from the provisions of the various conventions made with the Haytien government, she cannot, in the face of England, dispossess them of the country, but may be in the act of aiding the Spanish and Dominican parties in conquering that country from the blacks, with the express supulation of having it transferred to them alterwards, in one way or another. If they succeed in this, France and England will then struggle for the possession of Cuba, as the annexation of St. Domingo to the French and Spanish crowns, might give them the control of the commerce in those seas. The United States seem to be asleep on this as well as upon other great national questions, and her politicians appear to be bent more upon making Presidents for the next four years following 1848, than that of attending to the affairs of the country. What, I would respectfully ask, has become of the papers and report of the commissioner sent out to St. Domingo by Mr. Calhoun? Have the government taken any action on the report said to have been made by that gentleman to Mr. Buchanan? Or have they sent out another secret agent there, to look after American interests in that interesting part of the West India islands? These are important queries to answer. They deserve to be considered attentively, if not acted upon immediately.

Washington, Jan. 29, 1846:

Among the very extraordinary appointments made by the present administration, there is, perhaps, none that has excited greater astonishment than that of a youth named B. Key, as attorney of the United States for this District. Heretofore the selection was wont to be made from the most distinguished members of the bar; but Polk, like Tyler, never seems to inquire into the mental calibre, talents, or capacity of the candidate for office, but is governed entirely by the influence the applicant can bring to bear upon the indiscriminating mind of the former. Such has been the case in the present instance. Mr. Key has no experience; for though admitted to the bar four or five years ago, he has never had, I under-Tand the Pablic, that there First Grand Ball will take place on Thursday Evening, Feb. 5th, 1868, at the Collesium, 159 Broadway. The Committee pedge themselves that no pains or expense will be spared to make this, their First Ball, one of the best given this seeson.
